

What are a couple of things that stood out to you about this Sunday's message?

Have you ever felt that you had God stumped? In other words, have you felt that God had to answer to you for His actions?

How important do you think Habakkuk's theology—what he knew of God as shown earlier in the book—was in his response of 3:17-19?

What did Habakkuk know of God that helped him go from "though" (v. 17) to "yet" (v. 18)?

Are there any protests in your life that need to be turned to praise, perhaps through and by the assistance of your CG?

Is it possible that your resistance to God and His ways comes because God by Himself isn't enough for you?
